Ernest Dusuzeau.

From La Gazette des Sourds-Muets.

Mr. Ernest Dusuzeau, Chevalier of the Legion of Honor, Officer of Public Instruction, died on May 4th, at 6:30 in the morning, after four days of terrible suffering. He had been ill for four months and was unable to take any nourishment. He was sustained by various means, but his illness rapidly developed into cancer and other complications set in until his life was despaired of. He, himself, three or four days before the end, seemed to sense this fact, and said to those who came to see him that it was useless to attempt to reassure him. However, still later, in spite of his increased feebleness, he had the conviction that he would recover his health and take up his old occupations. He planned some fishing parties, and wrote to us regarding the Hartford Centennial. This letter, which is perhaps the last he ever wrote, will be published, and there one will see the warmth of his feelings and the force of his reasoning. Right near the end he showed great calmness of spirit.

His son cared for and helped him in a most devoted filial way, as did also Wm. Dusuzeau, whose courage and grief moves every one.

We will assemble material, for the publishing in a near issue, of a biography of the life of M. Ernest Dusuzeau.

M. Ernest Dusuzeau was the most brilliant, the most representative deaf man in France.

Of tall stature, straight and robust, with a distinguished face and expressive eyes, he was most imposing. And as his arms harmonized with his body, he possessed great power of gestulation. As a good orator enunciated each syllable distinctly and emphasizes his sentences, so M. Dusuzeau emphasized his signs, slowly, broadly and more especially clearly, so clearly that even hearing persons could understand him, influenced by the magic of his moving and clear gestures, and were on occasions even more enthusiastic than the deaf themselves.

They nicknamed him the "Gambetta of the Deaf."

For that reason, M. Dusuzeau was a fine exponent of the value of the sign language, and his departure is a great loss.

He will never be replaced. The German Oral Method insisted upon in some French schools, has taken from the homes of our deaf their sovereign gift of expression.

Because he had been raised by the sign language, M. Dusuzeau had formed for himself a fervent and loyal following. He defended it on all occasions, proclaiming it every where in his magnificent pedagogical way, as the means of intellectual emancipation. One of the best pupils of the Royal Institution of Paris, he had specialized in order to obtain the grade of Bachelor of Sciences and Mathematics. He became a professor in this subject. The introduction of the oral method caused the failure to employ deaf professors and he was named as honorary professor.

Mr. Dusuzeau occupied a place of highest dignity among the deaf. He raised himself against every impediment. He blamed those who were ashamed of being deaf, and who were asking for sympathy on that account. He wished the deaf to share equal rights with the hearing, with the same reward for merit, and the same punishment for their delinquencies. For him the fact of being deaf was not an excuse. It was a reason for greater courage and effort. He demonstrated this in his own life.

He seemed to be a trifle proud, disdainful and hasty. But this was only in appearance. It was necessary to know him well, to be with him constantly, in order to discover the treasures of his heart, his affability, his brotherly altruism, and how much of his talk was spiritual and of the life beyond the grave.

He had a sense of unity among the deaf. He belonged to all the useful and peace-loving clubs. He was president of the Association Amicale, of which the president founder had been one of his teachers, the deaf professor Ferdinand Berthier, who justly was the first of the silent people to be awarded the honor of being a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor. At one time he presided over the Federation of Societies of the French Deaf, and over several congresses in the provinces and at Geneva. He belonged to the Union Nationale, the Republican Alliance, the Avenir Silencieux, the Foyer of the Deaf, the Association Champenoise and all similar clubs.

But it is especially as President of the International Congress that he attained his greatest fame. With Emile Mercier, Henry Gaillard and Eugene Graff, he was one of the Frenchmen best known to strangers. He presided over the deaf meetings in London and Brussels. And in Paris he had the glory of presiding over the International Congress of 1889, 1900 and the bi-centenary of the Abbe de l'Epee in 1912, which was the unforgettable crowning of his career.

He died at the age of 72. However he had hopes of living until 100 and he had never been ill.

Now, a great void has been caused in the world.

The Gazette presents the most sympathetic condolences of all the deaf of France and other countries to Minnie Ernest Dusuzeau, to M. Rene Dusuzeau, M. Leon Dusuzeau and their family.

Seventy-six Impostors Arrested in Twelve States in Two Years.

Referring to Douglas Tilden's statement that only a dozen impostors are arrested in the United States each year:

I recently requested each State Chief to fill out a long official report blank. Only twelve Chiefs gave explicit answers to this particular question: "How many arrests and convictions have occurred in your state the past two years?" Evidently the other Chiefs had no exact figures on hand.

These twelve Chiefs report officially ninety-one cases; seventy-six arrests; fifty-five convictions.

California—Tilden's own State—leads with thirty cases and fifteen arrests, ONLY TWO of whom were adequately punished, as the California Impostor Bill was vetoed by the Governor in 1915. Using these figures as a basis (seventy-six arrests in twelve States), it is safe to say an average of one hundred and fifty-nine impostors are arrested in the United States each year—thanks to the N. A. D.'s, campaign of publicity.

Interested parties may check up these figures for themselves when the JOURNAL prints the Impostor Bureau's official report shortly.

Further, headquarters scrap-book contains newspaper clippings of 136 different cases occurring since January 1915. As, roughly speaking, only one out of every five impostors arrested and featured in the press is clipped and sent me, it would seem then, in the past two years and a half, the United States has had—but figure it out for yourself. The astounding, incredible figures are 680 Impostors.

Nadfraternally yours,

J. FREDERICK MEAGHER,
Director.

FANWOOD.

With the final strains of Taps at 6 P.M. Wednesday, June 20th, the golden curtain of the western sun lowered gently on Commencement Week, 1917. The great program of school activities terminated as it has always done, in a blaze of parting glory, a testimonial of the even pace with the march of progress.

Pupils and teachers were retained to resume routine duties, and fill out the school year, which began late because of the epidemic of infantile paralysis.

A fitting tribute to Old Glory was made in the chapel recently when Flag Day orations, by teachers and pupils, recalled incidents in the birth and history of our flag. A loyal pledge of fidelity to it made memorable the occasion as a closing feature.

The last school meeting of the Literary Association was tendered the graduating class, who are twenty-four in number this year, Saturday evening last. President Fox presided in the absence of the Counsellor, while Miss Burehard, representing the board of directors, speaking a few words of fond goodbye. Each member of the class, seated in a semi-circle on the big chapel rostrum, addressed the Association with affectionate remarks, some speaking of the source of pleasure the numerous entertainments had been, and others on the benefits derived from their experience, by which they meant always to profit. Expressions of hope were made that the work of the literary entertainments would steadfastly continue to develop both in force of presentation and in character. A few of the interesting personal intentions were:

Miss Florence Hughes leaves New York to reside in Ohio with relatives. Though she does not expect to visit Alma Mater for some time, desires reading reports of its advancement and betterment.

The two Maxs, of Prof. Bjorlee's advanced class, namely Max Cohen and Max Hoffman, of some renown here and very popular members of the boys' social and athletic gathering, will continue their interest in the printing vocation.

John Stafford, whose home is in Northern New York, and who is of a rambling disposition, at present speaks of an electrical position that he hopes to fill, or will do "his bit" for the country shouldering a hoe on some vast tract near his home town.

John Funk, who has lately developed quite high ambitions and firm determinations, if we so may speak, predicates a promising career at—why anything worth blazing a trail upward to.

John Livingston, who has completed some meritorious work, that speaks well for his recommendation, admits he is heart and temperament bent on sign painting and will hunt up some serviceable position with a reliable New York Company.

Other pupils have mentioned too many intentions, that all serve to speak well of their future, and are a source of pleasure to their classmates and those who have watched their progress.

Speaking on the soul of a man, Prof. Thomason Sunday that were directed mainly at the graduating class, Miss Mathews, her mother and aunt, the latter of the Mt. Airy School, were the only visitors present.

The afternoon subject was "Happiness."

The Protean Society held its final meeting last Saturday, during which the ceremony of admitting three new members from probation, and the presentation of the Society's beautiful gold emblems was administered.

The Cadet Officers to obtain the coveted honor this year were Cadet Captain Max Cohen, and Cadet Lieutenants Rabin Pois and Moses Schnapp.

Principal Carrier very kindly consented to the invitation of Rev. Mr. Keiser, of St. Ann's Church, to the members of the graduating class and congregation from Fanwood, to the Strawberry Festival and Entertainment last Saturday night. The pupils report the time of their lives and a very delicious, as well as abundant, feast of ice-cream, cake and sweetened strawberries.

Mr. Kendall, of the Board of Education of New Jersey, was a Friday visitor, and interested observer of the daily routine.

Such a warm spell struck the city this week that the pupils have resorted to cool summer wear. The boys now remove their uniform coats, while the girls are wearing their neat blue calico.

Such a week of photographing as has just passed! And, so many fine results!

After a week of ceaseless preparation, the band and Provisional Company, under the captaincy of Cadet Captain J. P. Gruet, are at last in perfect readiness for their trip and proposed stay in Hartford, where they will make daily exhibitions before the educational gathering at the Hartford School. Under the direction of Major Van Tassel, at the Principal's order, the boys will depart Saturday, the 30th, and remain over at the Hartford School until the 4th of July.

BASEBALL.

ALUMNI JR., L. FANWOOD, 9.
Outplayed in nearly every respect Fanwood easily triumphed Saturday June 16th, over her bitter rivals, the Junior Alumni team. The game was full of spirit and clean play, and the cadets were spurred to their best by a handsome gold watch and chain offered by the Alumni to the best player. Cadet John Uhl pitched an almost no-hit contest and won the highest number of points, thereby receiving the award, and being borne on the shoulders of the team. Uhl struck out sixteen of the best Alumni lineup and was so strongly supported by the team that only a lone tally could be scored by the graduates.

ALUMNI, SR. 7 FANWOOD, 1

Struggling neck and neck until the seventh, Fanwood put up what will be regarded the best game of the season in her second clash with the Alumni boys; this time with the far stronger nine composed of several semi-professionals. The lineup of Fanwood was unchanged, except for the absence of Cadet Guin, whose place was filled by Quartermaster Attenderfer. From the first, both sides ranged off with a series of quick plays and dash. It has been fairly estimated that had not Cadet Uhl, on the mound for the home colors, weakened during the middle inning, the Alumni would not have won so easily. Replaced by Snook, the graduates found an easy target and batted the horse-hide far and wide. Fanwood fought a game, but losing battle. We doff our caps to the victors, and especially to Nimmo, whose connection with the New Jersey State team lent enthusiasm to the contest.

Obituary.

Entered into rest, at her home, 21 Eighth Street, Oakland, California, of enlargement of the heart, June 12th, 1917, Clara Risley Davis, wife of John Davis, aged 48 years.

She was a daughter of the late George and Eleanor Laister Risley, former pupils at Fanwood School for the Deaf. Mrs. Davis is survived by her husband and three children, Miss Alice Davis, Mrs. Margaret Sander, and John Davis, Jr., all of Oakland, and one brother, Charles S. Risley, of Pittsfield, Mass.

John T. Southwick, 87, died today at his home on Division Street after a short illness of pneumonia. Mr. Southwick, who was a deaf-mute, had lived in the house in which he died since 1852. He was a bachelor and is survived by a sister, Mr. W. H. Pitkin. Mrs. Ralph Thomas of this city is a niece and the late George N. Southwick was a nephew. The funeral will be private, the Rev. Relif H. Brooks, rector of St. Paul's Church officiating. Burial will be in the Rural Cemetery.—Evening Journal, Albany, N. Y., June 30.

CHICAGO.

News items for this column should be sent to Jess A. Waterman, 1629 Lawrence Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Prof. Albert Berg, of Indianapolis, Ind., after drumming up life insurance business in towns north of Indiana since the close of the state school, arrived in Chicago last week. He plans to remain until after the Fourth of July.

Mrs. Minnie Sullivan, who lived on the west side for many years, has leased an apartment at 3810 Wilton Avenue. All her children are living with her.

Mrs. Leah Miller, of Belvidere, Ill., is spending a few weeks with her hearing daughter in Albany Park. She will attend the Frats' Picnic.

Mrs. Fredo Hyman and children left last week for Peoria, Ill., where they will spend a month with relatives. Mr. Hyman will keep plodding right in Chicago.

Mrs. Richard L. H. Long, who is reported to be suffering from nervous prostration, will go to her old home town in Indiana to recuperate. Her illness dates from May 1st.

Edward Kingon will be chef when the cafeteria and supper is given at the All Angels' Parish House, July 4th. A social is also on the program. As a cook Mr. Kingon is unexcelled.

Miss Marie Tanzar and Sidney Howard will attend the Fanwood Alumni Reunion this month, in New York City. Miss Tanzar proposes to remain in the city after the session visiting relatives. Mr. Howard thinks he might go up to Hartford.

Frederick Moore, formerly of Galaudet College, and an expert accountant, is in Chicago. For the next few months he will assist the grand officers in the headquarters of the National Association of the Deaf, 21 N. La Salle Street.

Frank Rosenke was killed by an interurban train in Utica, Ill., last Tuesday, June 12th, as he was coming from work. No one can explain just how the accident occurred. He was a brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hartung of this city.

Herbert Kaufman, who is keenly interested in learning the sign language, and a graduate of the McCowan School, has decided to read the JOURNAL hereafter.

Ralph Decker has forsaken the north side and moved to 5022 Calumet Avenue, in order to be near the tennis grounds of the South Side Tennis Club.

G. Emery Horn, of Atlanta, Ga., a prominent member of the N. A. D., is now in Chicago for a ten days' visit. He will prolong his stay so as to attend the Red Cross picnic.

Charles Hayford owns a prosperous millwork shop, in Lyons, Ill. He is sending out advertising cards offering to repair or build anything from a chicken coop to a garage. He has enlisted as JOURNAL subscriber.

The Lutheran Ephphatha Conference, comprising the nine Lutheran deaf missionaries in the United States, are holding a meeting this week, June 22d to 25th, in Rev. T. M. Wangerin's congregation, Milwaukee, Wis. At the same time will be held the triennial general convention of the Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod) represented by eight hundred delegates. Rev. N. P. Uhl, pastor of the Chicago Lutheran Mission, is taking an active part in the sessions.

The hearing husband of Mrs. Anna Harris has enlisted in the army, and will shortly be called for field service "somewhere" either in France or the United States. Mrs. Harris feels she has done a patriotic duty by sacrificing her husband in this fight for a world freedom.

It is probable that Chicago will be represented at the Hartford Convention by Dr. G. T. Dougherty, Rev. and Mrs. George Fick, Rev. Philip Hasenstab, Francis P. Gibson and Miss Cannon. There may be a few others who have not made any definite announcement.

"Psychological Aspects of the War," was the subject of Rev. J. M. Koehler, delivered before a large audience in All Angels' Parish House, Wednesday evening, June 20th. Dr. Koehler introduced some new phases in connection with the present world war, which those present never knew existed. His lecture was both interesting and instructive. He departed the same evening for his home in Scranton, Pa., where he will supervise his farm during the summer.

Mrs. Ernest Craig and two children left Friday, June 22d, for Ohio, where they will spend the summer with their country folks. About July 1st, "Old Man" Craig, business permitting, will join them for a week's vacation.

Do not fail to attend the Joint Red Cross Picnic at Bergmann's Grove, Saturday, June 30th. The committee is making strenuous efforts to dispose of one thousand tickets. They want to turn in a substantial amount to the Red Cross. Meantime, our hearing patriots are turning in a million a day. Do your bit!

The only daughter, Miss Letitia, of Mrs. Jennie Gallaher of Edgewood, was married Thursday, June 14th, to B. H. Princell, a bond salesman. Miss Gallaher has appeared as a soloist before clubs and societies, and was known as the "Irish Nightingale."

A meeting of the joint reception committee, representing the allied societies and churches of the deaf, has been called for Monday, June 25th, in the rooms of the Silent Athletic Club. They will make arrangements for the reception of those visitors who are on their way to Hartford. For several weeks Chairman Waterman has written to those whom he believed would pass Chicago in an effort to ascertain their plans. Only a few replies were received, the rest were uncertain, so that the committee is likely to have very little to do. The outcome will be announced in next issue of this paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Small will leave this month for Northampton, Mass., to attend a family gathering of orators. They will intrust the care of their little boy to Mrs. Ward's parents in Grand Rapids, Mich.

The Woman's Guild had a splendid supper, Wednesday, June 20th, at All Angels' Parish House, but few took advantage of it, because many had the impression that regular feast was discontinued for the summer. The ladies want you to come next time.

There were fifty-eight guests at the ice cream social in the Pas-a-Pas Club rooms Saturday evening, June 16th. Under the able management of Chairman Leslie Larsen, everyone was well taken care of—nearly all had two helpings of ice cream

NEW YORK.

News items for this column, should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M. New York.

A few words of information in a letter postal or card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

Patriotic tableaux and a cleverly acted farce, followed by a generous distribution of strawberries, cake and ice-cream, delighted the large audience at St. Ann's Guild Room, Saturday evening, June 23d. The program opened with a recital of "America" by Alice Judge, costumed as Columbia; followed "The Spirit of 1766," "The Spirit of 1917," "God Save the King," by Miss Violet Pearce, as "Britannia"; "Civilization at Bay," "The Red Cross Nurse," "Tending the Wounded," "The Marseillaise," by Mrs. John H. Keiser, costumed as France, "The Allies," "The Minute Man of 1776," "The Minute Man of 1917," concluding with the "Star Spangled Banner," recited by Miss Alice Judge. Followed the presentation of "The Reformation of Mr. Cusshard," by Miss Alice Judge and Mr. Alfred C. Stern. The action was fast and snappy, and the situations full of humor and the large audience fully enjoyed the half-hour performance. After the curtain was down, Mr. Charles Wiemuth the caterer, rolled up his sleeves and started dealing out the delectable berries and a liberal portion of ice cream and cake to the hungry guests. It was a very pleasant evening. During the intermissions Prof. James Howson, of California conveyed the greetings of the California deaf to their brethren in the East. Miss Ethel Zell, who is staying with friends near by, was also invited on the platform (had almost to be dragged on) to say a few words, and Miss Margaret Sherman made a plea for the Red Cross Campaign; the deaf of the country have already sent one ambulance to France and will send another. Miss Sherman is hoping for a generous response at the social to be held at the Church, Saturday, June 30th. Thanks are due to Messrs. Pfander, who impersonated John Bull in the tableau of the Allies, Victor Anderson, George Rau, Harry Bryan, Albert Dirkes, and to all who aided towards the success of the affair.

Murray Campbell, late of Mount Vernon, but now of Locust Hall, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was enticed to the Washington Inn, Saturday evening, June 16th, and there found a dozen friends (Murray prefers it friends) gathered to tender him a dinner, a farewell to Bachelordom and a happy launching on the Sea of Matrimony. The menu was good, nothing special to chortle over, but tasty and satisfying, merely a preparation for the real business of the evening. That was oratory.

Every one present was a past master at the art. Could orate catch-as-catch-can, Græco-Roman or Marquis of Queensbury style, and after the tables were cleared off, they went into action with only one preliminary. That was a toast to the bride-to-be. Grant that Jean's ears tingled in far-off California where she was waiting. For once the erratic, hilarious Murray was sober and subdued. In times past he had presided at similar gatherings and ragged the prospective bridegroom unmercifully. He led off with toasts, to the bride, to the groom, to the renunciation of freedom, and to the shackles of the golden circle. Several times he stood by and watched his cronies sentence themselves for life, for better, for worse, and he had grinned his ineradicable tight-lipped grin, smacked the bride, wrung the groom's hand and gone off growling because another intimate had forsaken him for a mere slip of a girl, and he couldn't understand it.

Now his turn had come. Nobody asked explanations of him. They had him where they wanted him, a lone bachelor facing a horde of gleeful benedictis, wholly unsympathetic, privileged from experience and primed for revenge. They prophesied, speculated, exhorted and admonished. They paid no attention to Toastmaster Beadell. They invented toasts on the spur of the moment and had the grinning Murray on his feet most of the time.

The loquacious Dr. Fox who prepared him for Gallaudet, the paternal Editor Hodgson, who stood mentor for him there many years, the flippant Pach who initiated him in the L. E. S. years ago, all had their say. Even W. W. W. Thomas rang in Napoleon once, and C. C. McMann, the silent, spoke for all of three minutes. Finally they permitted "Scotty" to defend himself while chuckling at his nervousness. We will draw the veil right here.

There was one more rousing toast to the bride and groom. "Long life and happiness to them!" Hand shakings, wishes for a pleasant journey and a happy homecoming, then the crowd faded out into the night.

Those who were present at the festive occasion besides the orators mentioned were: Messrs. Alfred C. Stern, William A. Renner, Edward C. Elsworth, John H. Keiser and Henry Beuermann.

The following, taken from the New York Herald, of Monday, June 26th, relates to the father of the Misses Margaret and Eleanor Sherman:—

The Rev. R. M. Sherman, rector of St. Bartholomew's Church, White Plains, died of heart disease in St. Luke's Hospital yesterday morning. He was born in Fall River, Mass., in 1863, and educated at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., and Brown University. He was graduated from the latter institution in 1887 and entered the General Theological Seminary of the Episcopal Church, New York City, and was graduated from it in 1890. He was made a deacon to Bishop H. C. Potter and became rector of St. Peter's Church, Danville, N. Y.

Mr. Sherman married Sarah Morse Gallaudet, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Thomas Gallaudet, in October, 1890. He was ordained priest by Bishop A. C. Cox, of Western New York, in February, 1891, and was successively rector of St. Stephen's Church, Newark, N. J., senior curate of St. Agnes' Chapel, Trinity parish, this city; rector of Trinity Church, Potsdam, N. Y., and examining chaplain to the Bishop of Albany.

Returning to New York three years ago, he took up his new work at White Plains and established the parish of St. Bartholomew.

Mr. Sherman leaves his wife, three daughters and two sons. The funeral will be held in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock.

HURRY CALL!

On Saturday evening, June 30th, a chance will be given to all the deaf residents of New York to "do their bit." A social affair will be given at St. Ann's Church for the Deaf that evening, the proceeds of which will go towards the fund required for the purchase and fitting out of an additional motor ambulance, that is to be sent to France by the deaf of the United States.

Now is the time for the New York deaf to rise to the occasion! As New York has been the first to send her men to the Mexican border, and also one of the first to respond to the call for recruits, it behooves the deaf residents to further the fair name of New York by sending, if not the largest, at least the first large contribution to the fund.

The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schmidt (nee Miss Rhoades) gathered in the cozy home on Broad Street, Newark, N. J., on Saturday, June 23d, to celebrate the fifth anniversary of their marriage. Many useful presents were showered on them. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. O'Donnell, Misses Bennett, Newfield, Sheehan and Thos. J. Grogan; besides their parents, brothers, sisters and hearing friends. They congratulated them on this anniversary and wished them the best wishes for their future.

Mrs. A. A. Cohn and children are stopping at Grahamsville, Sullivan Co., N. Y., for the entire summer. Since May 1st, when they arrived, they have not experienced such weather as last Thursday, June 14th. A great hailstorm arose, preceded by wind, lightning and thunder, which shook the house. The hailstones were as large as marbles and lay on the ground, although it rained for an hour. In the evening there appeared a rainbow, and the sun set most beautifully.

A pretty little wedding took place in St. Ann's Church, Saturday evening, June 23d. The contracting parties were Miss Maybelle A. Cox and Hubert Lieberz. Miss Lillian Lindhoff was bridesmaid, and Mr. Edward Dennis best man. Rev. John H. Keiser officiated. A wedding supper followed at Healey's. The young couple will make their future home near Newark, N. J., where the groom has a lucrative position.

Ida L. Frank wishes all her friends to know that she will be in Lakewood all summer. Any one who will happen to motor from New York through Lakewood to Asbury Park, don't forget to drop in and see Miss Frank. She wants her friends to know that she won the first roll of honor for her fine work in helping the Lakewood Red Cross War Relief by making mittens, cup-covers and other useful things for our soldiers boys.

J. E. Taplin, accompanied by his parents and brother, attended the funeral of his uncle at Chelsea, N. Y. They left Brooklyn Sunday at 7:45 A. M., and went by automobile by way of the famous Albany Post Road. The scenery was glorious along the route and the breeze welcome on that very hot day. They reached home at eight P. M., having traveled 151 miles in all.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Goldfogle and family visited their son, Milton and wife, at their country place in Briarcliff Manor. They were automobile driving sixty miles and visited the wonderful Croton Lakes, Lake Mahopac and other interesting sections in Westchester County. They returned late in the evening, after spending a very enjoyable day.

Sunday afternoon, at half past one, Miss Agnes Vallely and Mr. Joseph Hines were quietly married, in St. Ann's Church, by the Rev. John H. Keiser. The only attendants were Miss May Ruhl and Mr. Edwin A. Hodgson. The newly married pair are both graduates of Fanwood and popular among the younger set.

Mr. Harry U. Wise, of Harrisburg, Pa., took advantage of the excursion rates to Philadelphia on Sunday, June 17th, and surprised his old school friend, Sylvester C. Benedict, of Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, with a few hours of friendly chat.

Moses Neidenberg, a graduate of Fanwood a few years ago, committed suicide by inhaling gas, in a Chicago hotel, about a month ago. It is thought he became mentally unbalanced, as he had just started a fine fruit store in New York, and disappeared the day before it was opened for business.

Mrs. Charles C. McMann is in Ithaca, N. Y., for a week or so. A few days ago she visited Cornell University. With Mr. McMann, she went to Maine to leave their son in the Boy Scouts Camp on Lake Sebago.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stamm, a boy, on June 14th. Mother and baby are doing fine. Mrs. Stamm was formerly Miss Goldie Rosenswaik. They are married just one year and are former pupils of Fanwood.

Prof. James W. Howson, of Berkeley, Cal., is the first of the convention delegates to arrive from the extreme West. He visited several schools for the deaf in the East, and in New York did considerable sightseeing.

Frederick Gabay, who went to Akron to work for the Goodyear Tire Co., has returned to New York. So also has Morris Rubin, but he will return in a couple of weeks.

Mr. Dietrich Lindhoff announces the engagement of his daughter, Lillie, to Mr. Fred J. Haberstroh.

Mr. Solia Gershanek has obtained consent from the Supreme Court to change his name to Sol Garson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ten Eyck Litchfield, of Brooklyn, with the baby, have gone to Darien, Ct., for the summer.

NEWBURGH, N. Y.

Saturday evening, June 16th, a surprise birthday party was tendered to Miss Rosie Robinson, in honor of her twentieth birthday. Miss Robinson received congratulations and best wishes from friends in New York, Brooklyn, Mount Vernon, New York City and the Bronx.

At supper a large birthday cake, made by Miss Robinson's mother, was out and divided among the guests.

Those present were: Miss Jennie Greenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Israel and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Freeze, son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robinson, Misses Nora and Louis Robert, Mr. Bill Lindsey, Mr. Harry Berkowsky, of Cornwall, N. Y., Mr. Billy Greenberg, Mr. Bernard Malley and his wife Lillie, Miss Rosie Malley, Miss Bella Robinson, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., Mr. Joe Malley.

OHIO.

[News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 998 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.]

June 16th, 1917.—Jupiter Pluvius opened his flood gates on the assemblage that had gathered Saturday evening, to witness the third rendition on the campus of "Princess O'San." At the conclusion of Part IV, everybody was forced to seek shelter in the buildings by the rain, and announcement was made that Monday evening the play would be concluded. That evening proved a fine one, and an audience was present that was larger than on the preceding ones.

The editor of the Ohio State Journal thus commented on the performance editorially:

DEAF AND DUMB FANTASY

The deaf and dumb had a very unfortunate experience with the weather. They had a beautiful little play, a Japanese fantasy, on the campus, a drama of color and grace, and for two nights the heavens let out floods of rain which made the audiences scamper and the actors fly to shelter. It was a delightful event that showed how faithful had been the training of the boys and girls at that institution. But, on Monday night, the weather behaved itself and the audience greatly enjoyed the beautiful scenes of the fantasy. There is a good deal of real education in these little events, for they bring the pupils happily together, and develop them, both in aesthetic and athletic lines. The deaf pupils always give delightful entertainments.

The last chapel service for the term was held Tuesday morning. Principal Patterson admonished the pupils to make good use of the vacation by being diligent, assisting their parents in all possible ways they could, making good use of their spare time in reading, being careful of their health, and conducting themselves gentlemanly and ladylike on all occasions. He wished them a pleasant vacation, and admonished them to be promptly on hand when the next term opens in September. Superintendent Jones seconded all Dr. Patterson had advised, and thanked them on their general good behavior during the past year. The pupils then passed again to their classrooms, where promotion cards were handed to all who were entitled to them, and at 10:30 the school year for 1916-17 came to an end. Dinner was served at 11 o'clock, and, immediately after it, the exodus for home began. By evening three fourths of the pupils had left. The remainder left the next morning.

There was a fair attendance at the meeting of the Columbus Branch of the N. A. D., Tuesday evening, and little business came up.

Reference was made to the five cents a month pledge to the Endowment Fund of the N. A. D., and most of the members present paid in for the first quarter while several paid the full amount, sixty cents for the year. Mr. Zorn announced that the Advanced Society would have a picnic at the Home in July, and asked members to make it known to those of the deaf they met, and to whom it up. No one need to take lunch along, as it can be obtained at the Home. Mrs. Chapman, the matron will look after the eats, and no one need to leave the place hungry. Mr. Ohlemacher requested those proposing to go up to notify him several days in advance, so Mrs. Chapman can be informed of the number to provide for. It is proposed to spend the day in a patriotic and enjoyable manner. At noon, while the National Association of the Deaf is holding exercises in keeping with the Centennial Anniversary of the founding of the first School for the Deaf in America, by Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, at Hartford, Ct., appropriate religious exercises for a few minutes will be given to show reverence and gratitude to the memory of our benefactor. The deaf out of town are all earnestly requested to attend, and will be cordially welcomed. So let all who can make it a point to be on hand and show your gratitude to the man, through whose unselfish labors you live in enlightenment.

Some discussion took place on the recent election for officers of the N. A. D. The throwing out of ballots because a vote was given for two different officers who happened to be from the same state, was judged to be wrong and should be amended.

As the case stands, we have elected a president who lacks one hundred and thirty-three votes of half the legal membership. Let his hope some way may be devised, by which a larger vote can be secured when an election for officers takes place.

Mrs. Chapman now has an assistant in the person of Mrs. Maggie McVicker Gowan, who came last week from Detroit. She will have charge of the house work of the Home and as she has had experience in this line of work, we hope she will give entire satisfaction.

The Advance Society's picnic at the Home, May 30th, netted $64, which will go to the Men's Cottage. Jacob Vogelheid and James Eishelund have gone to Youngstown to work in the factory for which State Agent F. A. Croxton advertised for deaf men.

Mr. Eishelund had been working in the laundry at the school for blind, having been transferred there when the laundering of the school for deaf several years ago, was ordered by the Board of Administration to be done there.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Jeffries, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stokes, all of Springfield, Ohio, were mingling with friends and pupils Sunday.

Mr. W. N. Toomey was a visitor at the school Sunday, having come down from Canton, the day previous to start his wife and baby off for her parents home in Virginia to remain through July.

Mr. Howell H. Stottler and Miss Mona M. Looney, both of Cleveland, were married on the afternoon of June 9th, by Rev. B. R. Allabough at his residence. Mr. Stottler attended school here, while his bride was educated partly in the Cleveland Day School and partly here.

Mr. B. O. Sprague came over from Reynoldsburg Monday, trying to secure a man to assist him in his harness and shoe repairing shop. He was unsuccessful.

CINCINNATI CHIPS

Joseph Miller, of Newport, Ky., took a pleasant trip to Indianapolis, Ind., Sunday, May 20th, on an excursion. There he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cavanaugh.

John J. Wagner, of Latima, Ky., is the proud possessor of his own new home. He and family use the downstairs room, while the upper rooms are rented to others. He is pleased to welcome his deaf friends to come and inspect his "palace" on any Sunday afternoon. His two little daughters are as pretty and rosy cheeked as dolls and are worth seeing.

A group of deaf employees proved themselves patriotic in taking part in flag raising exercises and singing at the Rehnum Last Works, and U. S. Ptg Co. of Norwood.

Mr. and Mrs. DeSilver, Mr. and Mrs. Bertie Wortman, Miss Anna Phillips, Irvin Burton, Wylie Ross, Albert Bender, Exie Taylor, Robert Brickman were in Columbus Sunday, the 3rd inst., where they had the pleasure of meeting friends at the school building.

The N. F. S. D., Cincinnati Division, No. 10, will give a basket picnic Wednesday, July 4th, at Storm Park, Clifton Heights. Take the Clifton-Ladlow car and get off at the Miami Canal bridge, and go on the hill to the park. Bring a full basket for dinner and supper. Everybody is welcome. Remember the date.

John Fahey and Joseph Jansen were the excursionists to Indianapolis Ind. May 27th. In the evening they missed the train to return home and they had to take another train the next morning at five o'clock. During the evening, they could hardly reach the depot on account of it raining so hard.

The annual picnic by the Knights of De l'Epee, Cincinnati Division No. 3, will be given on Sunday, July 22d, at the farm of St. Rita School for the Deaf. Take Lockland car at Sixth and Walnut Streets and get off at Canal Bridge at Forster Street. Sign at a corner will show direction, or take the Glendale car and get off at Skillman Road. Sign on corner will show the way. Walk east to the school. Bring a full basket for dinner and supper. Everybody is welcome.

Mrs. Fred O'Brien went to Columbus last week to attend the commencement exercises at the school, where her brother, Louis Sienensohn, graduated. She was accompanied by her two babies and mother.

Knights of De l'Epee, Cincinnati Div. No. 3, donated half bushels of flour to be raffled off at the hall rooms, at 419 West 4th Street, Tuesday evening, the 5th ult. The drawing was conducted under the supervision of Joseph Miller, Thomas Serrage and William Farwick.

William Becker and Clara Gilligan both hearing, of the Baldwin Piano Co., were the winners. Their names and numbers were in the book in care of Harry O'Donnell.

Arthur Werner attended the Speedway Auto Races at Sharonville an Decoration Day. He was accompanied by his brother.

Clarence Pettypiece, of Winnipeg, Canada, and Miss Anna Phillips will be united in marriage, Wednesday evening, the 27th inst., at the Welsh Congregational Church on the west side of Lawrence, between Third and Fourth Streets.

William Harmeyer and Miss Elizabeth Sarg will be married, Saturday afternoon, the 30th inst., at the Wesley Methodist Church on East Fifth Street.

Rev. Reed will perform the ceremonies for both couples at the Welsh Congregational and Wesley Methodist Churches. We wish them happiness and good luck.

MICHIGAN.

Removal of the School for the Deaf from the Northeastern High School to the new addition of the Goldberg School, before the opening of the fall term, was announced last June 11th to the Teacher's Committee of the Board of Education, by the Superintendent. The change is being made because of shortage of room at the Northeastern.

The Liberty Literary Club is to be launched into the world on the evening of June 30th, by the giving of a grand Pedro Party, at 7:30 P. M., at Wayne I. O. O. F. Temple. Mr. R. H. McLachlan is managing the affair. Four prizes will be given away. Tickets are twenty-five cents a person and fifteen cents single admission. It has more than fifty gentlemen and lady members.

The "Flag Social" of the Guild, of which of which Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Rollins were in charge, was held at the Parish House, on the evening of June the second. That day, the weather man switched his levers from winter to summer. The evening was ideal and the large crowd heartily enjoyed every minute of the time. The supper at twenty-five cents a plate was swell. The tables were lovely with patriotic runners, napkins, etc., and the room was suitably decorated. Every flag was given away as a prize. The suppers or refreshments given under the auspices of the Guild are always first class.

There was scrambling for more orders for the group pictures of Division No. 2 banqueters. It is estimated there are one hundred persons in the pictures, and nearly all the faces could be readily recognized. The toastmaster and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stevens occupy places near the flag. At the left stands President Barnett; in the center, under the electric lights, Secretary Whitehead can be found; and about four feet farther you will find the No. 1 charter member of the old F. S. D. The picture has attracted a good deal of attention.

The writer and party visited the exhibit given by the Michigan School for the Deaf, during the afternoon and evening of June 4th, in the room at the Brown Hall Chapel. Specimens taken from the everyday classwork of the deaf pupils throughout the school year filled the walls and tables. The expressions of surprise and pleasure at the variety and general excellence of the work were heard as the visitors inspected the specimens. This exhibition of training by appeal through the eye and hand attracted favorable comment, especially from those whose lack of such training in their own school days made them appreciate the more deeply the value of such training.

The Detroit Division No. 2, N. F. S. D., will give a picnic on the Fourth of July, at Preston Perry's, Elm Park, Royal Oak, Michigan. Take Pontiac local cars, get off at Elm Park Ave. and walk one block south. Plenty of games and prizes will be given. Refreshments, ice-cream, etc., will be served. Come with us for a good time. Rain or Shine! The committee of twelve chairmen, composed of the twelve men who have acted as chairmen since Detroit Division No. 2 was established, will look after the whole affair.

Mrs. H. B. Mason, of Seattle, Wash., only sister of the late Collins S. Colby, is in Detroit for a month's visit with Mrs. Colby and daughters. Mrs. Mason is Superintendent of the Juvenile Court of the Police Department at Seattle.

Miss Violet Colby has gone to South Haven to meet a party of young girls on their way to Detroit from Chicago.

Several Frats, their wives and friends, attended the Flint Division Banquet, at the Dresden Hotel, June 16th.

Several Detroit mutes attended the Fifteenth Biennial Convention of the Ontario Association of the Deaf, at Belleville, June 23d to 26th.

Antone Ruh has bought a new Pope motorcycle, recently, and is an addition to the list of two Kalamazoo cycle owners.

Moses Graft, a young Frat, Sundayed with his married sister in Lansing, two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Tellier visited Mr. and Mrs. Ivers Tenney, in Battle Creek, last Sunday, on the eighteenth anniversary of their wedding. They had a bounteous dinner. Mr. Tenney came home from Port Huron, where he has a responsible position as an artist.

His family will move to Port Huron in the fall.

A nice surprise party was tendered complimentary to Peter Desmit by his wife and baby Ruth. About twenty-five mutes were invited to enjoy the evening with him. A delicious luncheon was served. Mrs. Desmit and baby left June the first for their old home in Minneapolis, Minn., to spend the entire summer with her people.

As the result of an accident, surgeons and nurses at the Receiving Hospital witnessed an apparent miracle. Joseph Sullivan, of Chicago, a "deaf mute," was struck by a Brush Line Car. Sitting up suddenly on the operating table, Joseph demanded in a loud voice, "Where am I?" After discovering in his pockets certificates that he was deaf and dumb and an epileptic, the nurses tried to quize him, but he had again lost the power of speech. On his recovery police will try to induce him to talk again.

The writer went to the Receiving Hospital and investigated the case. She was told that the injured man was removed to the city hospital. But he was not there.

ZENOISMS

We do not have much regard for the deaf woman who says that she does not like either deaf society or ice-cream.

Certainly, to some people, the advice to boost the world and it will boost you, is as interesting as feeding the gold fish. Even there is excitement when the fish are hungry and rise to the surface.

The convention widow can not only blush in a more effective manner than a recent Institution girl graduate, but she also knows just the time to say that your speech is more graceful than anybody else's.

It is better not to make a friendly call at the superintendent's office during the busy hours, unless to say that the Institution paper has the prettiest outside of any in the I. P. F.

Don't brag of the laws you proposed in the Nad. If they are not rotten, at least past achievements should remind you of last season's pennant, the glory of which has departed.

Even where the convention is not a failure, the ordinary member is more popular, first when he pays dues at the treasurer's table, and second, when he pays twice as much at the bar to celebrate the fact.

When a Shawyn finds another Shawyn is a devil, he usually does so with an "I-am-found-out" air.

When a fellow, who gets more glory from aliases than ability, is treated with contempt by a sophomore of a college correspondent, it is time for the fellow to quit.

One brand of idleness and incompetency consists in seeking employment in Institutions at each convention.

After you have sitten all morning listening to agricultural discussions in the industrial section of the convention, the Institution buttermilk at lunch tastes almost as good as over a bar.

It is always safe for a superintendent to act chasty at a meeting, when a pupil of his becomes famous at the pupil's own expense.

Unless she has beautiful hands to match, the deaf woman with a sad face had better express her troubles only in her looks.

As a rule, the do-nothing Nad president complains of the inroad into his valuable time.

A fellow easily becomes a human punching bag, when he believes that if he boosts, the world will take enough notice of him to boost with him.

Greatness is always more attractive in the rearmost seat of the convention than on the platform.

St. Louis Briefs

A substantial sum for the auto ambulance is being raised in St. Louis. The prospective driver, John K. Cloud, sailed for France June 9th.

The "Division for the Deaf in the Department of Labor" bill before the Illinois Legislature, was unanimously approved by the State Senate. This is quite a compliment to those who have been pushing the measure and presages its ultimate passage. It is modeled on the Minnesota Deaf Labor Bureau plan.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Grow, of Fulton, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snyder, of Jacksonville, were in St. Louis, recently, visiting relatives, and attended services at St. Thomas' Mission.

Mr. Peter Hughes, of the teaching staff of the Missouri School, was a recent visitor. Mr. Roy C. Carpenter also stopped over for a day. He was making a trip from Colorado Springs to somewhere in Indiana in his automobile.

The tennis court at Gallaudet School is becoming a popular rendezvous on off afternoons by former pupils of the school. It is better than at the parks, where there is a time limit to the use of courts and crowds waiting to use them.

The pupils, patrons and teachers of Gallaudet School had their annual outing at Carondelet Park, recently. Mrs. Temple and Miss Russell had charge of the entertainment features while the expert knowledge of John K. Cloud was utilized at the refreshment stand.

The teachers at Gallaudet School have all been re-appointed for the next term. All but Miss Russell, who will do governess work in Memphis during the summer, expect to attend the Hartford conventions. Mrs. Temple and Miss Steidemann take special courses in Boston. Miss Steidemann will also take an extension course in New York. There will be a summer session at Gallaudet School with Dr. Cloud and Miss Herdman in charge.

The thirty-eighth anniversary closing exercises at Gallaudet School were held in the auditorium of the Teacher's College, on the evening of June 7th. Miss Steidemann had general charge of the evening's program, which consisted of schoolroom exercises, recitations, essays by members of the graduating class and an address by Dr. E. G. Paine, Principal of the College and Superintendent of the group of schools to which Gallaudet belongs. Diplomas were presented to Roy D. Lowe and William A. Eskew, both of whom had previously taken the entrance examinations for admission to Gallaudet College.

VANCOUVER, WASH.

FIVE GRADUATE FROM DEAF SCHOOL.

With the precision and unison of trained soldiers, the little fellows of the state school for the deaf executed a drill last evening at the school. This marked the closing of the commencement exercises of the school. The boys were under the instruction of Sergeant Carl James, cadet, and himself a student of the school.

Many people were in attendance at the commencement exercises last evening, and all present took a personal pride in the attainments and accomplishments of the pupils from this splendid institution.

Little Victor Strebe, six years old, blind and deaf boy, with his teacher, gave a demonstration of what the school has done for him in the past four months. He now has a vocabulary of over a hundred words, and is daily adding more to his store of knowledge.

The programme was divided into two parts, first a practical demonstration of the lessons, both from the text books and in manual training and domestic science, showing that when a pupil graduates he not only has a book knowledge, but has practical knowledge and efficiency. The rendition of the Star Spangled Banner and America in the sign language was a pretty and impressive feature.

The second part of the program was devoted to the graduates. The ceremony of the Handing Down of the Spade by a representatives of the senior class to a junior class representatives with the injunction "Dig" was impressively carried out by Oscar Sanders and Miss Neola McCall.

Miss Letha Stenervagle gave the salutatory, Miss Eva Hoganson and Edwin McNeal, each a splendid essay, and the valedictory by Dewey Deer. Diplomas was presented to the five graduates by Professor Thomas P. Clarke.

In addition to the five graduates, Carl Gillis, of Vancouver, was given a certificate of merit, as he wishes to go to work instead of attending school next year.

Four of the graduates for the state school will next year take up higher education and will enter Gallaudet college. They are Dewey Deer, Oscar Sanders, Edwin McNeal and Letha Stenervagle.—Vancouver Columbian, June 12th.

READING, PA.

Reading Division, No. 54, N. F. S. D., held its monthly meeting at their room on North 8th Street, on the 2d of June. After important business was transacted preparation was made for the ice cream festival to be held in Red Men's Hall, on the 16th of June.

The Reading Branch of the Pennsylvania Society for the Advancement of the Deaf held a package social on Thursday evening, June 7th, at Christ Chapel Hall, with a large attendance, and thus a neat sum was realized, which will go towards helping the Home at Doylestown.

The Reading Branch of the P. S. A. D. is preparing to hold a grand picnic at Hampden Park, on July 28th.

On June 5th (our country registration day), more than five young deaf-mutes registered here, and all of them are eager, nay, anxious to fight for our glorious country.

Mr. Elmer Eby went to Gap Lancaster one day last week, to visit his parents.

On Sunday, June 3d, a set of young girls and boys of Reading had a delightful outing. Mr. Ahrens, the father of one of the girls, took them in his big touring car to Berkeley, ten miles from Reading. Upon arriving there, the girls got busy picking daisies, while the boys hunted up a nice place where to spread the lunch that they brought along. The feature of the day was a game of baseball between the boys and girls. The girls won by a score of 7 to 4.

After the game they strolled along the road to a country hotel, where Mr. Ahrens awaited, and took them back home in his car.

The party was composed of the following: Misses Elizabeth Ahrens, Hannah Ahrens, Helen Wink, and Eva Rowe, Messrs. Harry Sommers, Elmer Eby, Edwin Retchie, John Wise and Paul Albert. They enjoyed the party very much.

Misses Elizabeth Ahrens, Hannah Ahrens and Eva Rowe were down to Penside, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Roger Williams, one evening last week. Mrs. Roger Williams has a pretty baby girl, named Fredia, of which she is very proud.

Last Friday Miss Hannah Ahrens left here for a three-day sojourn to Mt. Airy and Philadelphia.
